

General disclaimer

Terms of use

Please read these terms of use carefully. Use and access of this Web site and sub sites ("the site") infers your acknowledgement and acceptance of these Terms of use as the same may be amended from time to time. The use of the site and any materials contained herein is permissible only in accordance with the following terms of use.

Information on the Web site and liability

The contents of the site are for information purposes only. The information does not constitute or form part of, and should not be construed as, an offer to sell or issue or the solicitation of an offer to buy or acquire products or services of Danske IT and Support Services India Pvt Ltd (Danske IT) or any third party that may be named on the site. Any arrangements between you and any third party named on the site are at your sole risk and responsibility.

Danske IT has taken reasonable care to ensure that the information and functions contained on the site are complete and correct but does not warrant this to be the case and accepts no liability for any errors, spelling mistakes or omissions. Neither is Danske IT responsible for the suitability of information on or contents of the site.

Links to other Web sites

The site offers access to other sites of the Danske Bank Group, which are subject to separate Terms of use as published thereon. The site may also offer access to third-party Web sites through relevant links or offer or convey products, services and information provided by a third party. The Danske Bank Group has not reviewed and is not responsible or liable for the contents of Web sites provided by other parties than the Danske Bank Group, including products or services provided by such parties.

Web site security

Although we believe the site to be free from viruses, malware and other errors that might affect your IT systems, we cannot guarantee this. You access and use the site at your own risk. Danske IT assumes no responsibility for any loss or damage arising from the use of the site and all files and/or programs published on the site. Furthermore, Danske IT accepts no responsibility for the availability of the site.

Neither Danske IT nor any of its officers and employees accept any liability for any damages or direct, indirect or consequential loss arising from the availability or use of the site, including any harm or defect caused to your computer as a result of access and use of the IT systems that makes the site available.

Data entered via enquiry forms, including contact forms submitted via the website, is protected by SSL encryption. This data is not disclosed to third parties.

E-mails sent to us through the (open) Internet may not be encrypted. Therefore, we recommend that you do not include personal information in your e-mails.

While we use SSL encryption, any personal details or other information entered onto or submitted through the site or by email to Danske IT is entered or transmitted at the user's risk and Danske IT shall not be liable for any such information being intercepted or accessed by any third party without the knowledge of Danske IT or any of its employees or agents.

Ownership and intellectual property rights

Danske IT is the author of material published on the site. Danske IT reserve all rights to ownership, copyright, trademarks and all other intellectual property rights relating to the site and to products and services mentioned on the site – unless stated that such rights are the property of a third party.

As a user of this site, you may view and print the contents mentioned above for personal, non-commercial use only. You may not otherwise copy, save or otherwise reproduce, adapt, modify, transfer, assign, use or exploit the contents or parts thereof without our prior written consent.

Should any of these terms of use be held to be unenforceable, the validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not be affected and the unenforceable provision will be replaced by an enforceable provision which comes closest to the intention underlying the unenforceable provision and which is of similar economic effect
